Dear [REDACTED]

We saw Drex, as you know, and enjoyed greatly the chance to know him personally and to review the situation at firsthand through him. We went over the matters mentioned in your note of 25 June and I am sure he has discussed it fully with you since. There is not much we can do for him on the "post graduate course", but I think he may get it arranged with [REDACTED] I believe their facilities are ideally suited.

Be assured that the problems that confront you are appreciated. We know that the road you are on is bound to be uphill for a long time. I would recommend strongly that immediately after the maintenance of good relations, which you have done well to date, you keep in mind the need for concentration on those primary, specific things that interest us most. A few nuggets of this kind are more valued here than carloads of general data.

Yours sincerely,
